Policy:

Students experiencing documented medical needs (extraordinary cases in which serious illness or injury) or special extenuating circumstances (significant personal situation) that render them unable to engage in academic work for the remainder of the semester may request a withdrawal due to hardship. The request can be made after the first week of classes (following the 100% tuition refund date) and no later than the end of the sixth week of classes (fall/spring semesters). The incident (medical and/or special extenuating circumstance) must have occurred during the current semester and the request for withdrawal due to hardship must be submitted no later than the last day of the sixth week of classes of the respective semester.

A student may request and be considered for a withdrawal due to hardship based on medical needs when extraordinary circumstances, such as a serious illness or injury prevent the student from continuing classes. This policy covers both physical health and mental health difficulties.

A student may request and be considered for a withdrawal due to hardship based on special extenuating circumstances when extraordinary personal reasons, not related to the student's personal physical or mental health (for example, care of a seriously ill child, parent or spouse, or a death in the student's immediate family), prevent the student from continuing in classes.

Students who are active members of the military who are deployed for service may also request a withdrawal due to hardship. The active duty deployment must have occurred during the current semester and the request can be made after the first week of classes (following the 100% tuition refund date) and no later than the last day of the respective semester.

Students who are pregnant or experiencing pregnancy-related conditions, including childbirth, may request a withdrawal due to hardship. The pregnancy or related condition must have occurred during the current semester and the request can be made after the first week of classes (following the 100% tuition refund date) and no later than the last day of the respective semester.

In each circumstance, the student will be afforded the opportunity to receive a leave of absence from KCAI for a maximum of four semesters.

Partial withdrawals will not be permitted. A student granted a withdrawal due to hardship must completely withdraw from the institution.

F-1 status international students must initiate with the Primary Designated School Official (PDSO) or Designated School Official (DSO) as designated by SEVIS, and will only be considered after initial approval from the PDSO/DSO.

A request for withdrawal due to hardship will only be approved once during the student's academic career at KCAI.

Requests for withdrawal due to hardship and supporting documents are retained by KCAI for up to five years.

The Dean of Student Affairs, in consultation with the Executive Vice President for Administration and Vice President for Academic Affairs, reviews withdrawal due to hardship requests.

If the request is approved, the following will occur:

1. The student will be withdrawn from all classes that semester and a notation of W will be recorded on the student's transcript for each class. Partial withdrawals are not permitted in this situation.
2. The student will receive a tuition refund equal to the amount of tuition charged during the current semester only. Fees are non-refundable. Living Center charges will be prorated.
3. The student will be subject to repayment terms of any Title IV federal financial aid as mandated by the federal government.
